Access to Amadeus Altea – insert your LOGIN into USERNAME field.

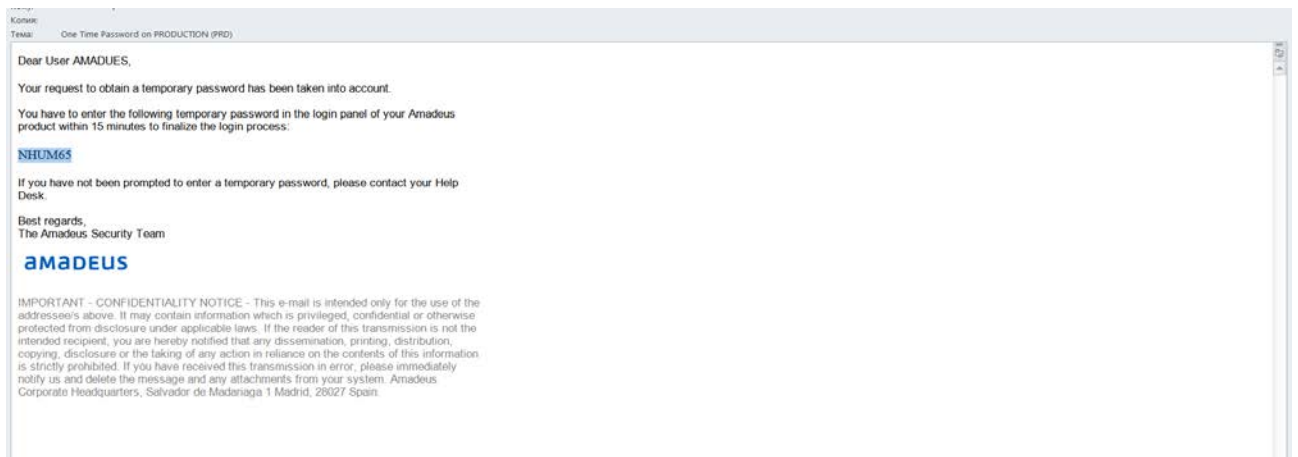

The image shows the login interface for the Amadeus Altéa Reservation Desktop. On the left is a vertical banner image of a person performing a handstand against a blue sky. The main area has a light yellow background with the title "Amadeus Altéa Reservation Desktop" in blue and green. A "Login" tab is active, showing a form titled "Please enter your details to log in." The form includes fields for "Username:" (containing "UAMADEUS") and "Password:" (masked with asterisks). There is a "Forgot your password?" link. Two checkboxes are present: "Sign in to default office" and "Remember me", both of which are checked. "Login" and "Clear" buttons are at the bottom right of the form. The Amadeus logo is in the bottom right corner. A small copyright notice "© 1999-2017 Amadeus s.a.s. All rights reserved under national and international copyright laws." is at the bottom left.

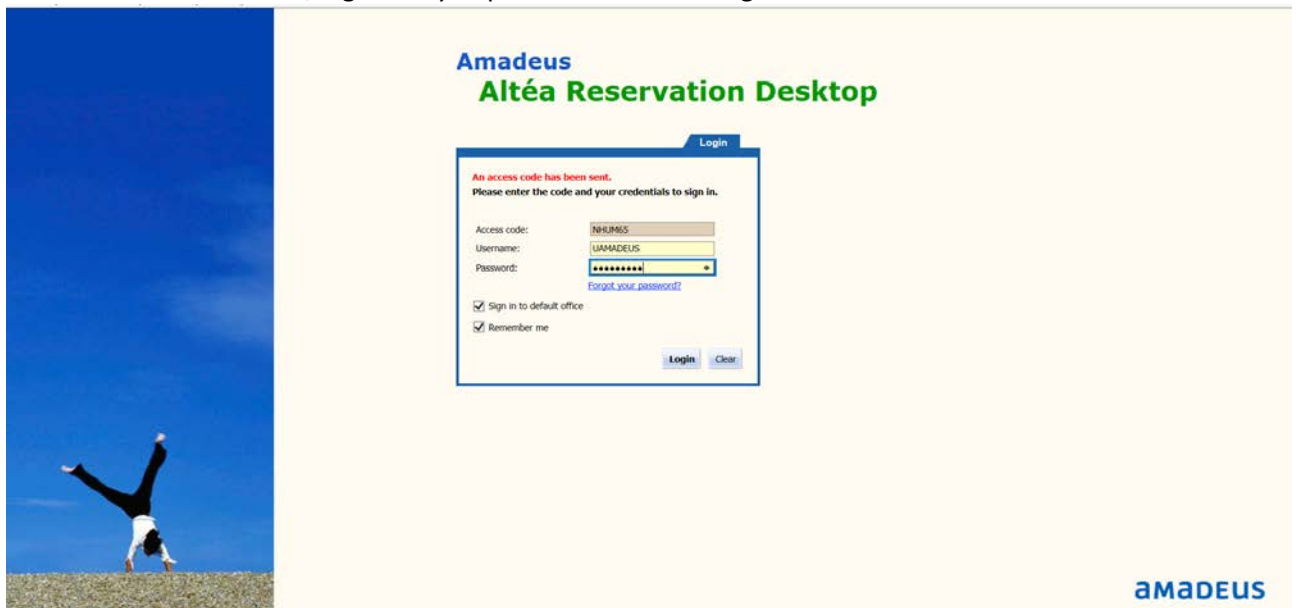

When you try to login to Amadeus Altea system will send the ACCESS CODE to your email

This image shows the same login interface as above, but with an additional step. A red message at the top of the form states: "An access code has been sent. Please enter the code and your credentials to sign in." A new "Access code:" field has been added to the form, positioned above the "Username:" field. The "Username:" field still contains "UAMADEUS". The "Password:" field is masked. The "Forgot your password?" link and the checked checkboxes for "Sign in to default office" and "Remember me" remain. The "Login" and "Clear" buttons are still at the bottom right. The banner image and Amadeus logo are also present.

Please insert access code, login and you password and click login button.

Congratulations! You are in Amadeus!
